TL Safety provide health and safety, quality and CE Marking consultancy services and training throughout the North West and most of the UK. We have several qualified consultants and trainers who have experience across many industries from offices, retail, warehousing, manufacturing motor trade, rail, facility management, estate management, estate agents, councils, builders, construction industry and much more. We assist all sizes of organisations from owner managed businesses, contractors and small organisations to large multi national companies. We provide consultancy services, risk management, risk assessment, site audits, site inspections and assistance with gaining accreditations such as SMAS, CHAS, Acclaim, Safe contractor, ISO 9001, ISO 14001, OHSAS 18001 and CE Marking for structural steelwork or bolts and fasteners. Our trainers can deliver training courses either at you place of work or local venues and we offer both accredited and non accredited courses. We also provide health and safety competent person retainer services where we can act as your safety advisors at a fraction of the cost of employing a full time safety manager. We can act as your safety advisors or provide services on an ad-hoc basis. We can even provide an insurance backed guarantee scheme enabling you to claim back any HSE Fee for Intervention invoices you receive. (Terms and conditions apply).

TL Safety have launched a brand new online health and safety solution for all businesses called " SAFETY FIRST" The online portal has pre formatted and pre populated templates that help you to create risk assessments, COSHH assessments and method statements. It has an accident recording module, plant and equipment register, training records, safety audit module and toolbox talks. Contact us for details.
